Newly released documents reveal the email sent to Fox News host Sean Hannity on Monday from former Deputy FBI Director Andrew McCabe indicating "FBI leadership did not direct me" to leak information to the media. "The sentence 'The FBI as part of our investigative team was successful in getting a FISA warrant' was not accurate," McCabe wrote to Hannity in response to questions about a recent report in the New York Times. "The FBI as part of our investigative team was unsuccessful in getting a FISA warrant" against former Trump campaign associate Carter Page, he said. The exchange was revealed in a letter from Inspector General Michael Horowitz to Sen. Lindsey Graham (R-S.C.), who has been critical of the decision to issue a subpoena to McCabe. McCabe, who was fired earlier this year, did not qualify his previous statement. He also said that he was "never directed to stop investigating Russian interference in the election, or directed to stop investigating Mr. Page." Attorney General William Barr responded to Horowitz's letter on Wednesday, indicating that an investigation was being undertaken to determine whether McCabe was fired for lying and leaking. McCabe's sudden exit from the FBI was one of the most explosive elements of the Trump-Russia investigation. His firing on Friday came a day after he told a book-signing event that "the reality is that if the president wanted to, he could have intervened to have me removed" after the 2016 election. DOJ Inspector General Michael Horowitz is reportedly looking into a media leak to smear former FBI Deputy Director Andrew McCabe, who has been at the center of the Russian probe for two years. The letter is seen as notifying McCabe's legal team that he would be subpoenaed to testify. Fox News Horowitz has claimed McCabe was lying when he told Congress that he was not involved in the Clinton Foundation probe. Horowitz released a redacted version of his report that claims McCabe's rhetoric was inconsistent and that his own investigators concluded that "no improprieties" occurred when the deputy FBI director leaked to the media. McCabe and other FBI officials privately implied that the Clinton Foundation was part of the Clinton email investigation, which was launched months after President Trump Donald John TrumpFederal prosecutor speaks out, says Barr 'has brought shame
